

The following is a copy of my email to Sinclair Broadcasting about their one sided so-called "news" "documentary," called "Stolen Honor":

Dear SBG,

I just read from two different sources about you forcing your TV stations to air what amounts to a FREE advertisement for unpresident Bush right before the election. I would expect something like this from FOX (and I see that you do own some FOX stations too).

You should not give FREE time to your own personal interests at the expense of democracy. If you must air your FREE Bush ad, then at least air the other side too, like "Going Upriver," right after yours, and in a similar time slot.

Remember these are (so far, unless the extremist far right gets total control) PUBLIC airwaves.

Thank you.
